

Tsunami has funds army

WELL-KNOWN faces in local entertainment are clubbing together to hold a fund-raising extravaganza in aid of the tsunami disaster appeal.

Presenters from Bay Radio, including DJ Pep and John 'Gilly' Gillmore, and Mick O'Brien, manager of The Carleton, plan to organise an all-day benefit bash of live music at the Morecambe nightclub on Sunday, January 30.

Live bands are being lined up to appear and negotiations are under way to bring in a major headline act.

The Carleton, having already raised money for the tsunami appeal from its New Year's Eve party, will also donate proceeds from its regular Wednesday 'student night' discos to the fund.

Pledge

Meanwhile DJ Pep has continued his own unusual fund-raising scheme – 'Pep For Hire' – whereby members of the public can pledge a minimum of £50 to the appeal to gain his services for an hour – to do just about anything.

Bay Radio's DJ Pep with Lancaster Rotarians, Sydney Woodhouse, Alan Burton, Mike Holmes and Mike Worth; Planet Mobile representative, Keith O'Hagan and ASDA customer services manager, Pat Parrott, with the Rotary's vintage double-decker bus at Lancaster's ASDA store. Pep cleaned the bus as part of his 'Pep For Hire' tsunami appeal fundraiser.
