

Radio One on the road

THOUSANDS of music fans packed into Windermere for the Radio One Roadshow — but that wasn't enough to satisfy two North Lancashire DJs campaigning to get Morecambe back on the event's diary.

Although yesterday's show with popular DJ Gary Davies and several top chart acts was hailed a success, a regular site on Morecambe Promenade has remained silent this week.

Radio bosses decided to strike the resort from its regular slot during the North West tour. But local DJs Pep and Jay, real names Peter Roberts, 22, and Jay Margerison, 25, are determined to let them know the strength of feeling.

They travelled to London with a bunch of letters collected by the Lancashire Evening Post from Radio One fans, angry that the roadshow was missing out their town.

Sunshine

In the Lake District at The Glebe music fans danced in the sunshine as the roadshow rolled into town and was broadcast live to millions of listeners.

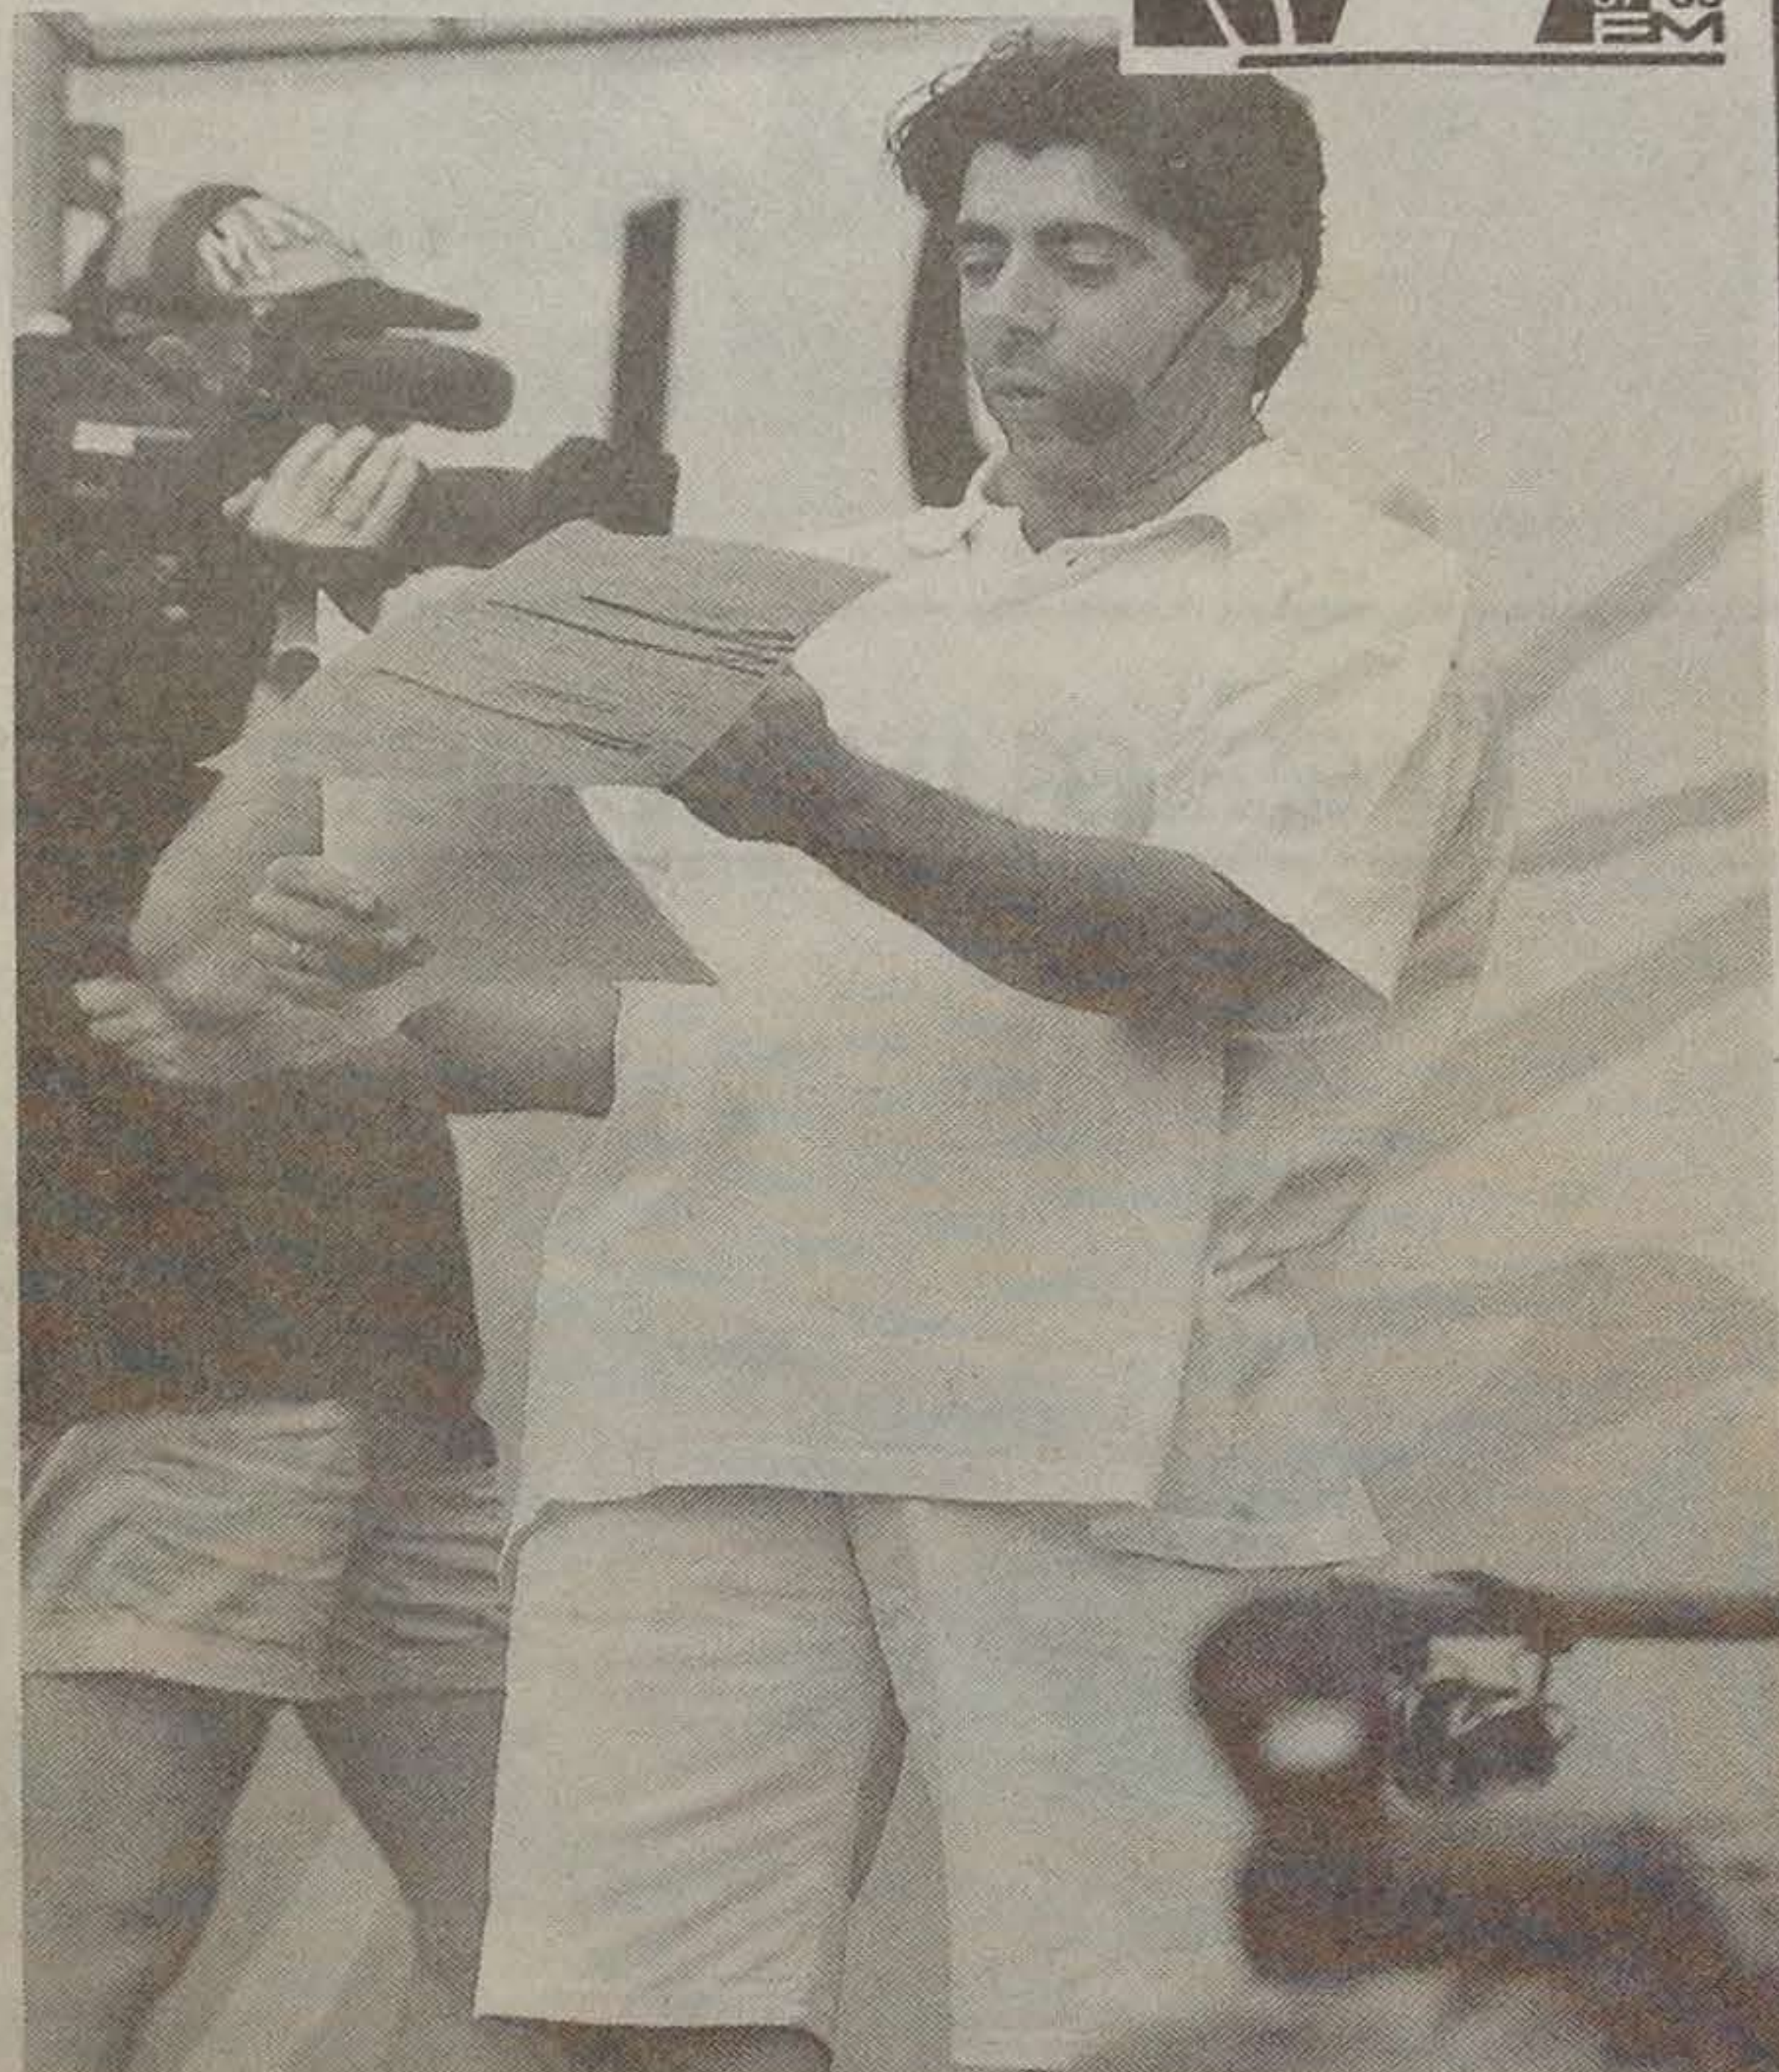

Chart-topper Gabrielle sang her number one hit Dreams and singer Don E and American group Jade wowed the crowds.

Between the hits they were kept entertained with the roadshow's madcap games and party atmosphere.

That's the sort of event the two Morecambe DJs want back in their town.

On their visit to London they took armed themselves with sticks of Morecambe rock bearing the slogan: "You're not going to Morecambe, so Morecambe's coming to you."

After arriving at the offices, the DJs were passed from one official to another, but struck gold when they chanced on Breakfast
