A MORECAMBE man has been crowned king of the decks after scooping a top gong for the UK's best nightclub DJ.

DJ Pep, pictured, fought off DJ's from across the country to take the prize at the Beda Awards, a celebration dubbed as the Oscars of the nightclub industry.

Peter Stringfellow presented the famed

Bay DJ with the Best UK DJ award in Birmingham on Sunday, after he impressed mystery judges with his quirky set at Preston's Lava and Ignite Club.

The cream of the nightclub crop described the Morecambe music man as 'warm, witty and entertaining' with MC-ing skills that made him shine.
